This Week

We had a dazzling good week learning about the letter 'D'. This week we read My 'd' Sound Box, sorted letters from our 'D' box, sang along to our 'D' Poem, and watched the Sesame Street Letter 'D' Podcast. Throughout the week we also learned about the numbers 5 and 6.

This week we left the cold arctic weather outside and warmed up our classroom learning all about Hawaii and tropical places. Throughout the week, we learned about volcanoes, made grass skirts & lei, and even tried some fresh pineapple. On Friday, we ended our Hawaiian week by dancing in our skirts to some fun Hawaiian music and erupting a huge volcano right in our classroom!

On Wednesday, we celebrated Lunar New Year. We learned all about the Chinese traditions that bring in the new year with a different animal. This year we learned about the year of the snake. The kiddos enjoyed making a red and gold chime to hang up at home and getting their own red envelope with a dollar in it!

In Art class with Miss Bonnie, we began working on a project to celebrate Black History Month. The kiddos enjoyed learning about Jean Michel Basquiat and the neo-expressionism art that he created.

Throughout the week we enjoyed reading books in the library, cooking in the kitchen, painting our volcano, building with blocks and coloring in the art center!
